Activity description

In Seadur, "covas" (traditional wine cellars) have always been a gathering place, where fire and wine created unforgettable moments.

Now, it's your turn to step into the role of a coveiro for a day! Enjoy a private cova with a terrace and a wood-fired oven, where you and your group will be the chefs of your own feast.

Includes

Warm Welcome & Setup

Upon arrival, you'll be greeted and guided to your exclusive cova. Depending on the weather, you can enjoy the outdoor terrace or a cozy indoor space.

Your Cova, Your Table

You'll receive a box with everything needed to set up your table and decorate your space—plates, tablecloths, cutlery, glasses, and other essentials, along with instructions to create your perfect dining setup.

Traditional Cooking Experience

The highlight of the menu is marinated baby goat, ready to be cooked in the wood-fired oven. Your group will prepare and roast it just the way you like it. To accompany the main dish, enjoy homemade empanada, fresh salad, and potatoes.

Sweet Ending & Cheers

Finish your experience with a traditional dessert (bica or apple cake), accompanied by coffee and a shot to toast to a great day! Plus, every three people get one bottle of wine from the cellar. More wine, beer, soft drinks, and extras are available upon request (billed separately).

Eco-friendly Practices

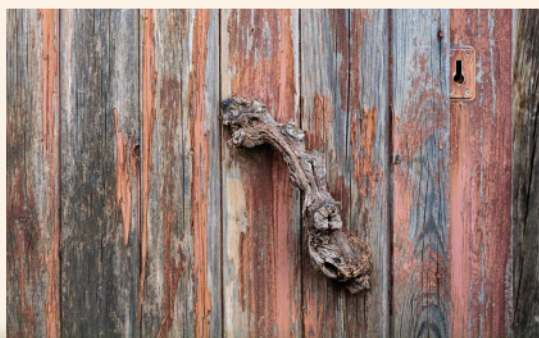

- > Reusable tableware to cut down on waste.
- > Wood-fired cooking for a traditional and energy-efficient experience.
- > Responsible waste management, promoting separation and composting.
